Dear Users,

We express our sincere gratitude for your use of the Drosophila Genetic Resource Center (DGRC) at Kyoto Institute of Technology.

We at KIT have been receiving processing fees for supplying Drosophila Genetic Resource materials since April 2006.

Please understand that our university administration deals with payment only by credit card through the Internet payment system in order that these materials can be used by researchers from all over the world. Your cooperation would be highly appreciated.

When making payments through your organization's expense account, please consult with your accounting department so as to pay in advance.

Yours sincerely,
